EdOptions Foundation Provides Virtual Education Solution for Maricopa County Jail System

Juveniles Prepare for GED, AIMS or High School Diploma

Phoenix, AZ, July 6, 2009 – The Educational Options Foundation and Arizona’s Maricopa County Sheriff’s Office (MCSO) Education Program have partnered to begin offering incarcerated juveniles the opportunity to use Web-based content delivery to prepare for a GED, standardized test or earn high school credits. Supported by a grant provided by the EdOptions Foundation, the project is headed up by Dr. David Reed, Director of Educational Research for the Foundation and Ms. Debra Miller, Principal of the MCSO Education Program.

The Maricopa County Juvenile Education Section is tasked with providing general and special education services to inmates of the Maricopa County Jail System, as required by Arizona and Federal laws. MCSO houses approximately 175 juveniles on a daily basis. Providing an education for incarcerated juveniles is challenging at best in a jail setting, but Sheriff Joe Arpaio believes that “being in jail is no excuse for skipping school.”

The EdOptions Foundation grant addresses the unique needs of jail students through the use of EdOptions Stars Suite® content delivery system. The Stars Suite program provides juvenile inmates the best educational solution based on their age, offense, number of credits earned, and the desired educational goal: GED or high school diploma. Students were officially enrolled in the Stars Suite program on June 17th, and more students will be added as their eligibility and need for a particular program is determined.
